A tale of two girls and their siblings is a must to read

JOIN local author Sarah Gray and well-known local illustrator/author Peter Carnavas for the launch of the children's book Olivia and Kate at 9.30am on Saturday, June 27 at the Maroochydore Library.

Olivia and Kate is the story of two girls who have something in common. They both have siblings living with eosinophilic esophagitis – an inflammatory condition of the esophagus.

This story is based on two real-life families and was written to help express some of the feelings siblings of children with chronic medical conditions may be experiencing.

Join author Sarah Gray as she shares the story.

The story reading will be followed by a demonstration by Peter Carnavas on how he creates and draws his characters.

All proceeds from this book will help ausEE Inc. to achieve their mission to improve the lives of those affected by eosinophilic gastrointestinal disorders by providing support and information and by funding Australian medical research.

This is a free event and bookings are essential by visiting the council's library website or calling 5475 8989.

BOOK LAUNCH: Join the author and illustrator.
